REALISE YOUR POTENTIAL WITH RRC

RRC are looking forward to the Safety and Health Expo - let's hope we do not get another monsoon this year. They have a full team on stand R120, available to answer any questions you may have on RRC's HSE training and consultancy services.

For 2017, they have all NEW online IOSH & IEMA courses being launched at the show, with a special show discount of 50%. And to help with the impact of rising inflation, RRC are offering 20% off all other courses.

They will be selling the very popular Health & Safety at Work For Dummies - a collaboration between RRC & the famous 'Dummies' publisher John Wiley & Sons for just £10 or £15 for two. They will also have daily prize draws with chances to win Courses.

As with previous years, RRC will have a full library of NEBOSH & IOSH course materials so you can visit the stand and see in depth what is involved in studying for these qualifications.

For those who cannot make the show, they will be running a Virtual Expo featuring news and videos live from the exhibition, interviews with the RRC on stand team - including Gary, Kevin, Gareth, Charlene and some surprise guests, free download copies of RRC's Health and Safety Law Step Notes and special exhibition discounts on RRC Courses.

Gary Fallaize commented:
"Despite having spent seven hours on the A13 due to last year's flooding, it was still a great show and all at RRC are really looking forward to meeting our students and customers at the show again this year".

www.rrc.co.uk

variety of equipment, including PDAs and scanners, alongside expensive radio equipment to present accountability, efficiency and significant cost savings.

Steve Bumphrey, Sales Director at Traka said: "Visitors to this show understand the need for an increased degree of competence when it comes to Health and Safety, at every level of running a business, alongside the increasingly severe implications for non-compliance.

"Our ambition on stand N200 is to demonstrate how key and equipment management is not only essential to achieve these requirements, but also show how it can create a more efficient business operation, with full audit capability to ensure staff at every level remain accountable and traceable at all times."

Traka provides intelligent key management and equipment management access control to better protect important assets - resulting in improved efficiency, reduced downtime, less damage, fewer losses, lower operating costs and significantly less administration.

Visit Traka's stand N200 at Safety & Health Expo

www.traka.com

TRAKA LOCKS INTO SAFETY & HEALTH EXPO

Traka is attending the Safety & Health Expo to showcase how its latest intelligent key and equipment management solutions can enforce process and ensure compliance to the highest health and safety standards.

Specialists in intelligent key cabinets and locker systems will demonstrate on stand N200, how it can help organisations fulfil health and safety requirements and implement superior management control, right from pre-operational safety checks through to loading management.

Fault reporting, integrated alcohol testing and machine start controlled access to fork truck and fleet management, making sure only qualified staff can operate, are just some of the processes available where Traka can help to keep audit control using the latest intelligent key management.

Traka will also be available to discuss tailored customer solutions when required to secure a wide

